REMARKABLE LITERART DISCOVERY.—A ver interesting antiquarian discovery has lately bee made public. Giston had long ago, in his grea work, printed out, as other most authentic of work, p inted out, as "the most authentic of relics," the bronze serpent on which was placed the golden triped, made by the Greeks from the speils of Xerxes, and dedicated to the Temple of Apollo, at Delphi, as related by Heredotte, after the battle of Plaise. This was carried to his new capital by the Emperor Constantine, and though mutilated by the iconoclastic zeal of the conqueror Mohammed II, it still remains erect in the Hippadrome at Constantine, and the As it was difficult to reconcile the present appearance of the monument with the etantine de. As it was difficult to reconcile the present appearance of the moniment with the descriptions of ancient authors, some doubts had been thrown on its nurbenticity; but during tho recent occupation of Constantinople by the afflict powers in the Crimean war, excavations were made, and the serpent pedestribid furre to its base, where, by the application of chemical solvents, the criminal II be in inscription, recording the manage of the Creak States which had solvents, the cricinal Illedic inscription, recording the names of the Greek States which had fought against the Persians, was recovered. It is the most Archaie form of Greek writing, well and deeply cut, and written in the houstrophen manner, in which the lines are rend alternately from right to left. The reappearance of a record actually seen and opened by the futher of history, and many centuries later by Pausonias, which has been lost to the world ever since, is a remarkable link in the chain of discoveries which have of liste

That great power is now tied hand and foot, and for aggressive purposes never was weaker. Beyond making a demonstration, she can accomplish nothing; and even that might precipitate the long-dreaded insurrection.

Nor will Prussia lend a hand to extricate her Southern rival out of her present predicament. The alliance with Grent Britain and France is in every sense mere valuable to her material interests; while politically the leadership of Germany is gradually passing ever into her hands. Though the Prince Regent has not openly identified himself with the Liberal programme, he has as little disposition te share in the aisfortunes of the Reactionists. There is clearly no help from that quarter. Even the statement that he had withdrawn his Minister, for Turin turns out to be untrue.

ARRESTED FOR ROBBING AN EXPRESS COM-PANY,-We recently etated that a package of bank notes, amounting to $9,415, sent by the Mercheuts' Bank of Bultimore to the Hagers town Bank, through Adams & Co.'s Express, had been broken open on the route and $3,360 made good the amount stelen, and immediately set Ihomselves to work to delect the robber. The officers and sgeuls at Harrisburg, a few days since, had their suspicions aroused against a young their employ, end on his arrest he confessed his guilt. The Harrisburg Union says:

When asked what be had done with the mone he said that he had spent thirty dullars, had his teen on hand, and hed lurned the reet in We zel' swamp. He told Cul. Bingham, the Presidant o tha company, where he had spant tha money and what he had said was true. He recovered the tonces spent by Simmons, and had bim committed to jail.
